

1 Read the chart.

no-	any-	some-	every-
There's nothing wrong with you. You aren't sick.	I have a headache and I can't see anything .	My stomach hurts. I think I ate something bad yesterday.	Do we have everything we need for the first aid kit?
The doctor's office was quiet. There was no one / nobody there.	Does anyone / anybody have a band aid? I cut my finger.	I think there's someone / somebody at the door. I heard a knock.	The food was bad, so everyone / everybody has a stomachache now.

2 Read and choose the correct words.

Everything hurts – my back, my leg, my arms. It hurts everywhere.

- We use every / any / some / no + thing to talk about specific / indefinite things, objects, or concepts.
- We use every / any / some / no + body or one to talk about a specific / an indefinite person or group of people.
- We use every to talk about one / all.
- We use any in affirmative / negative and interrogative sentences.

3 Read and complete the text with the correct indefinite pronouns.

One night, Saeed woke up. He heard ¹ something downstairs. He was afraid there was ² someone in his house. He got up and slowly opened his bedroom door. He couldn't see ³ anything at first. He walked quietly downstairs. There was ⁴ something on the stairs. His cat jumped up. Saeed was surprised and fell down. He hurt his leg. He took out his phone to call the hospital. When the paramedics came, they asked, "Do you live with ⁵ anyone?" "Yes, but ⁶ everyone is away for the weekend," said Saeed.